Australia is Recognizing Jeff Smith of New Jersey as World's Middleweight Cham-

HERE'S a new complication!

The Australian papers, just arrived, tell us that down in Australia Jeff Smith of New Jersey Paris is now middleweight ion of the world! Jeff Smith has won a decision over Jimmy Clabby, who recently beat Eddle Mc-Georty. It was a pretty close fight, not all the Australian sporting authorities agreed with the referee. Mr. W. F. Corbett, best known of them all, even declared that Clabby should have had the decision. here is what the Austra have to say about the fight:

"For the third time in the history "For the third time in the history of boxing a world's championship has been decided in Australia. And in it Jeff Smith triumphed over his countryman, the world-famed and highly popular Jimmy Clabby, in twanty rounds of scientific boxing at Rushoutters Bay Saturday night.

"It was a classic in boxing. Boxing in its Mighest aspect, as illustrated by men of the Jeff Smith-Jimmy Clabby type, is an art, an accomplishment, which the law recognises and every community healthy in body and mind is prepared to foster.

Jeff and Jimmy didn't indulge in a singing match, although hard blows were struck. Australia has taken a great liking to the "clever" style of boxing, it appears Freddy Welsh, who is talking of going to Australia, would be a wonderful favorite down in the Antipodes.

OW that Australia is "recognis-ing" Jeff Smith as champion, and California thinks George best of the middleweights, Fiatbush, Brooklyn, N. T., tacks the title to McCoy, hould be some lively argubefore all disputes are over. It very much as if Jeff Smith of New Jersey might hold that title for a while, when he has made his claim good in this country as well as Australia. Fest is one of the younger middleweights, although his experience extends through a number of fights with first class men here, in Europe and Australia. He is natow, with plenty of intelligence, and he has become a remarkably clever poxer. McGoorty could do nothing with him. When he fought McGoorty come months ago the latter received the decision but the mubile was so

There's a rumor that McCoy's menager has the "champion" farmed out somewhere, 'putting a heart into him." With this im-portant detail attended to McCoy mey become a fairly good middle-weight. But it will take some time to make him stand up and box without turning his back and striking foul backhand blows whenever he finds the going too

FOE JEANETTE and Battling Jim Johnson renew their discussion on scientific boxing to-night. Their last argument a couple of weeks tenth round was over, Mr. Jeanette lauding a socdolager on Mr. Johnson's landing a socdolager on Mr. Johnson's lower maxillary early in that session.

Mr. Johnson was so impressed with Mr. Jeanette's prowess, so says his manager, that he retired and actually worker hard for two weeks, this being NO RUNS.

Bradley was thrown out by Wester-zil's error. Holly reached first on Wester-zil's error. Holly was caught off first, Land to Myers. Berry struck out. NO RUNS. worker hard for two weeks, this being the first work he ever did since becoming a boxer. As Jim Johnson is the most massively built human being ever seen in a ring it will be well worth while to view him in real fighting condition. As a physical model he makes the Ethiopian giant in "Cabiria" look like an infant in seams And that's going some model he makes the Ethiopian giant in "Cabiria" look like an infant in arms. And that's going some.

By the way, Dominick Buckley tells me that Battling Jim is the most honest fighter he ever knew. Years ago Battling came into the Sharkey Club one night and asked to be allowed to show that he could fight. He was given a chance in a "battle royal," and how he cleaned up! Shortly afterward James Buckley heard that Nachville, Tenn., wanted a dark gentleman of fistic ability to meet a local heavyweight who had championship aspirations. So Mr. Buckley looked up Battling Jim, gave him the address and enough money to pay his railroad fare. Battling Jim took along a lunch or two in a paper bag. In the arrived in Nashville and fought. Sincidentally he won and received more money than he ever saw before in his life—a couple of hundred dolglars. Immediately Battling Jim rushed to a telegraph office and sent the following despatch:

"Mr. Buckley, Sharkey A. C., New Telegraph

With Jeff Smith, McGoorty, Clabby and Chip all out for the title, we have a better class of middleweights now than we've seen before in many years. And by the way, they're all Americans.

BHAWNEE COUNTRY CLUB, WATER GAP, Pa., July 15.—Golf as it should be played was on tap to-day when the professional golfers of the East completed the third medal round in the tournament on the links of the Shawnee Country Club. Joseph Mitchell of Upper Montclair, the home course of Jerome D. Travers, the national amateur champion, came home course of Jerome D. Travers, the national amateur champion, came through with a great 73 and totalled 224 for the 54 holes thus far played. Isaac Mackie of Fox Hills, who showed the way yesterday, took 77 for a 226 total and now stands second. Mitchell was once a pupil of Mackie. James M. Barnes of Whitemarsh Valley, one of the Pacific Coast stars last year, had a 78 for a 232 tally, good for third position for a while, and this was two strokes better than the effort of Mike Brady of Wollaston, holder of the Massachusetts open title.

Mackie lost two strokes on the first hole by his weak second shot, which was bunkered and he took two to get

Baldwin Again N. E. Champion.

BOSTON, July 15.-Experience and generalship were the main factors that helped Matty Baldwin to defeat Gilbert Gallant in their twelve-round bout. The verdict again makes Baldwin the New England titleholder. Gallant was a big favorite with the majority of the fans. RACING NOTES.

Goldcrest Girl finally graduated from the maiden ranks, after having had several chances in company of higher class. She was kept off the pace in the early part and when McCabe made his move with her she went to the front easily.

Bargo owes his backers a lot of money. He always shows a race that makes one go to him the next time. He did the same thing yesterday. Slow to get going, he was coming fast as usual in the stretch, but the race wasn't long enough for him evidently.

Joe Rosenfield is worthy of consideration in almost any sprinting com-pany. He has lost his habit of run-ning out at the turns. He is a fast breaker, and once he gets in front takes some catching. He ran his field dizzy yesterday.

Old Donald McDonald certainly stole a march on most of the form players. Because there was no action on him early in the betting period, the talent started playing all around him. When it came to racing, Donald was the proverbial cinch.

EMPIRE CITY RACE TRACK, YONKERS, N. Y., July 15 .- The rack was muddy for to-day's race here, but the condition of the track makes little difference with the racegoers, evidently. They were out in their usual numbers.

Opening up a gap in the run to the stretch, Shuttinger took him wide, losing whatever early advantage he had. This let Mabel Montgomery and Dixleupon the rall, and for a second it looked as if this would cost Egmont the race. Capt. Swanson came to life rather suddenly in the second race in which he was meeting a very cheap lot. He chased five lengths behind Young Emblem to the stretch and saving all that ground by hugging the rail caught Young Emblem in the final eighth to win going away. Young Emblem, made a lot of use of by McCahey, seemed to be running away with the race until he swung wide for home. He gamely continued under the whip and easily saved the place from Urchin who closed fast.

The rest were badly strung out before they had run a quarter and finished that way.
